Hi Justin,

I made revisions and added comments to the SOL response on the bison PRF. I was also able to talk with Joy about the DPS determination and we agreed that we should be focusing on information made available since our 2011 position that said YNP bison may not be considered a DPS. So some changes were made with the DPS discussion, but there's still substantial information that they may be a DPS. Let me know if you think I've covered everything or if I need to change or add anything. I attached the document below, but its also in the YNP bison folder if you prefer to open it from there.

Jenn
