I love Montana and all it has to offer for recreation. To keep things short and simple I'd like to say we definitely need our wilderness and parks but I'd like to see more off road 4x4 trails in our state similar to Goose lake, Independence, Benbow etc. Possibly open old existing roads that have become more privative even if it's limited to keep the number of people who are allowed to use it in a given season similar to what is done on the Smith river. I'm part of a club that would love to adopt more trails and work with the USFS or other entities if given the opportunity.
